

SERIOUS RIOTING BREAKS OUT AT GARY PLANTS

Scores Injured When Strikers Hurl Brick and Stones.

TROOPS ON WAY TO SCENE

BULLETIN.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 4.—Governor James P. Goodrich tonight ordered eleven companies of state militia to East Chicago and Gary where rioting broke out today as the result of the strike of steel workers in that district. The troops will have headquarters in East Chicago, where 800 of them are expected to arrive by six o'clock tomorrow. They will be under command of Adjutant General J. B. Smith.

The governor's action followed an appeal by Sheriff Barnes of Lake county and Mayor Hodges of Gary. The sheriff reported that rioting was inciting the strikers to steel workers riot and that the situation was beyond his control on account of the inability to obtain sufficient deputies. He also reported that trouble was developing between negroes and whites.

GARY, Ind., Oct. 4.—Serious rioting broke out late today when thousands of steel strikers and others hurled bricks and stones, fought the police, deputy sheriffs and city firemen injuring probably scores. The local company of militia was notified by city officials to be in readiness for duty. No shots were fired.

The fighting spread virtually all over the south part of the city, extending from Tenth to Eighteenth avenues. The local hospital was soon filled with the injured and city jail was filled with men arrested. The fighting was of fierce nature, between individuals. The trouble started when strikers were leaving a union mass meeting. Several thousand strikers who were at the meeting and others on the streets were involved. The immediate cause of the rioting the strike was called on Sept. 22 was the presence of a number of strikers on a strike car on their way to the steel mills to work. The car was halted by a police train. The strikers began to loot and jeer the men on the car according to the police and soon bricks and stones began to fly. A woman and three children were passengers on the car and A. Dickson, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., after the motorman and conductor had fled from the car, attempted to pacify the crowd. His words were met by more missiles. It was reported by a police officer that the first policemen were overwhelmed.

Then a second riot call brought the remainder of the police force, about 100 men. These were followed by nearly 500 special policemen and firemen. The fighting continued. Men with raised heads, cuts and other injuries were hurried away to the three city hospitals.

Early in the fight it was said 25 or 30 persons had been taken to hospitals. The police arrested more than a score. In the meantime Mayor Hodges and Chief of Police Forbes notified officers of the local military company to be in readiness for duty.

In spite of the presence of 300 police officers the strikers and their sympathizers numbered several thousand in a short time and against such forces the police and special officers were unable to make much headway.

The police finally obtained the aid of the army after sending out two companies armed with riot guns. It was necessary to fire a shot. A light rain aided the authorities in quelling the disturbances and the rioters finally were dispersed. Mayor Hodges issued a statement tonight announcing that the police had control of the situation.

Thirty men were arrested. About twenty five were locked up according to the police, while the others were released and still others were being questioned. Incomplete reports to the police showed that 40 or 50 persons were injured, four of them policemen. None were fatally hurt according to reports.

King Albert and Party Visiting Boston Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Visits to places of interest occupied the time today of King Albert, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Leopold of Belgium. The royal party will depart for Boston tonight, arriving there tomorrow morning.

While King Albert and the prince visited the Woolworth building, the world's tallest structure; the Stock Exchange and the Produce Exchange. Queen Elizabeth arranged to visit the Rockefeller Institute and several of the city's hospitals in company with Mrs. John F. Hyland, wife of the city's mayor. At noon King Albert and Prince Leopold were guests of the committee for relief in Belgium at the Bankers' club.

The Belgian rulers will attend the meeting of the American Legion tonight at Madison Square garden, arriving there at about 10 o'clock. The king will address the legion members, after which the royal party will go directly to the Waldorf and thence to the state department's special train to journey to Boston.

Boston and Buffalo will be the only cities in the east other than New York to be visited by the king and his party. The king's decision to cancel engagements because of the illness of the president did not apply to the program arranged for him in these cities.

They will spend tomorrow in Boston leaving tomorrow night for Buffalo, where they will remain until Monday evening when they depart for California. Until October 14, the party will remain at some place as yet unannounced and will not attend any formal affairs.

On that date the Belgian ruler will be formally received by the city of San Francisco. The change of plans eliminates visits to Moline, Ill.; Seattle, Spokane, Davenport, Ia.; Kansas City, St. Paul and Minneapolis. It is thought probable that some of these cities may be included in the itinerary on the return trip east.

LOWDEN ADDRESSES MISSOURI LAWYERS
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 4.—Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, speaking before the Missouri Bar association here tonight pleaded for devices by which the population of America would not be increased alone in numbers but in quality and with American ideals.

"We seem to have been unable," he said, "to make democracy function as it should, but if we shall only now take heed of some of these fundamental things, if we shall only measure the success of a great industry by the well-being of the people it supports and sustains, if we shall only consider how thoroughly the progress we make conduces to the well-being of all our people and to the performance of our institutions, we shall survive the dangers that threaten us."

Mr. Lowden deplored the "new and strange doctrines which are to be found today at every corner, not alone from soap boxes but from pulpits and classrooms and at times the pulpit which if permitted to become prevalent would utterly ruin our institutions."

BELGIANS SERVED BEANS BAKED BOSTON STYLE
Boston, Oct. 4.—Beans, baked Boston style, and served in golden pots, were on the menu of the luncheon to be tendered King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium here tomorrow.

Two gold plates have been made for the occasion and will be presented the royal visitors. They were fashioned after the ordinary bean pot and are about six inches in height and eight inches in diameter.

SENATE PLANS TO HASTEN ACTION ON PEACE TREATY

Leaders Hold Numerous Conferences
Saturday.

SHANTUNG QUESTION NEXT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The trend of developments today in the peace treaty situation still was toward rapid progress on amendments and reservations. The senate was not in session, but leaders held numerous conferences. The Shantung amendments are to be taken up on Monday and Republican leaders think it possible that all amendments will be disposed of and consideration of reservations begun in a week or ten days. A movement to have a definite date fixed for the vote on the Shantung amendments was made today by Senator Kenyon, Republican of Iowa, chairman of the senate labor committee which is investigating the steel strike. The committee wishes to visit the strike district next week and Senator Kenyon said he would try to arrange for a formal agreement to vote on the amendments on Wednesday or Thursday. When the Shantung amendments are disposed of, Republican leaders plan to take up the amendments of Senators Johnson of California and Moses of New Hampshire, Republicans, bearing on the equalizing of the voting power of the league of nations of the United States and Great Britain and her colonies. Senator Johnson who is on the Pacific coast was advised today, some leaders said, to return here within a week. Other Republicans said they knew of no recall of the California senator but doubted if he would fill dates in Washington and Oregon.

The Johnson amendment is to be discussed at length on Monday by Senator McCumber, Republican of North Dakota, who has offered a reservation designed to cover the same ground as the Johnson amendment. Further conferences on reservations were held today by former President Taft with Republican senators favoring so-called "mild reservations." It was said that a reservation on the Shantung provision would be offered if the amendment by Republican Leader Lodge relating to the Shantung award was rejected.

There was considerable speculation among senators regarding the probable effect of President Wilson's illness on disposal of the treaty. Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, administration leader in treaty fight, said the immediate effect was negligible. With the senate engaged for another ten days or two weeks on amendments the delay between Democratic leaders and the president was gratifying to those who desire to keep official matters from President Wilson.

Senator Hitchcock said, however, that when the reservations were brought up the president's counsel would be of prime importance, and that it was hoped by that time he would be able to confer with the Democratic leaders. In any event Senator Hitchcock said he and other friends of the treaty were well informed regarding the president's position against reservations.

Wholesalers said the wholesale prices of raw materials made necessary the increase.

WILL HANDLE APPEALS
Washington, Oct. 4.—On request of Julius H. Barnes, federal wheat director the department of agriculture will hereafter handle appeals on intra-state as well as interstate wheat disputes. The direct-appeal system found this necessary "in order to make the guaranty good to the producer of wheat everywhere in the United States." Federal grain supervisors in large markets, the announcement said, have been instructed to entertain all appeals from licensed inspectors' grades.

WORK OF LEAGUE IS NOW INCREASING

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—Republicans of Massachusetts in state convention today went on record as in favor of the prompt ratification of the treaty of peace, "without amendment" but with specified reservations and condemned the action of the peace commission in the matter of Fiume, Thrace and Shantung. The convention also declared its pride in the statesmanship of Henry Cabot Lodge and endorsed his efforts to bring about prompt action on the treaty.

Senator Lodge, in a speech said that he accepted the platform, but would vote against the Shantung provision "whether it be by amendment or reservation whenever it is presented to me."

The reservations specifically favored were for the right of the United States to withdraw from the league upon due notice; for no obligation to employ American soldiers or sailors unless congress shall so direct; for complete control of domestic questions such as tariff and immigration, by the United States, and for the United States to be the judge in interpreting the Monroe Doctrine.

DEMOCRATS ALSO MEET.
Boston, Oct. 4.—Heated debate on the peace treaty at the Democratic state convention today ended in the adoption of a resolution favoring ratification of the treaty including the league of nations covenant by the United States senate providing the covenant is so amended so as to give no nation more votes than the United States.

The clash on the treaty plank centered in an amendment finally rejected, which demanded that the treaty of peace and the covenant of the league of nations be considered and acted upon as separate and distinct documents "that the senate refuse to approve any such document which does not give self-determination to all small nations, whether opposed by the victor or vanquished." "especially Ireland," and that the senate shall ever keep before its mind the fact that we are not ruled by a potentate or emperor and that not even the president may usurp their functions.

ALL IN READINESS FOR BIG LABOR MEETING MONDAY

Railroad Unions Undecided on Sending Delegates.

HOPE TO SOLVE MANY PROBLEMS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Arrangements for the opening Monday of the industrial and labor conference called by President Wilson, virtually were complete tonight with only the question of whether the railroad unions would send delegates unsettled. With the transportation workers unrepresented many officials think the value of the conference reduced because of the tremendous part played by the railmen in the economic life of the country. There is no question however, that the deliberations will begin on Monday afternoon.

Timothy Shea, of the firemen's brotherhood, was in telegraphic communication with other union executives today. It was intimated that there was serious doubt as to the railway unions participating in the conference. The compromise proposal submitted by the railroad administration after conference with President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor and Secretary of Labor Wilson would give the four big brotherhoods, engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen, one representative each leaving the other railroad unions which are affiliated with the federation to be represented by the 14 men named by the federation. In addition E. M. Jewell, acting president of the railway employees' department of the federation, has been appointed a representative of the public in an effort to meet the opposition of the unions which he represents, but apparently the results he achieved were not satisfactory.

PITTSBURGH STRIKE IS UNCHANGED

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 4.—The end of the second week of the steel strike found the situation in the Pittsburgh district virtually unchanged from that of the last few days.

Altho the steel companies' statements declared that many men had returned to work and that production was "near normal" union leaders said the situation was satisfactory and that the ranks of the strikers were unbroken.

Preparations are being made by steel companies to open many suspended mills in Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Eastern Ohio on Monday morning.

French Premier Urges Meeting of League In U. S.

PARIS, Friday, Oct. 3.—Premier Clemenceau has written Col. E. M. House, a member of the American peace delegation, urging that a meeting of the League of Nations be held in Washington under the chairmanship of President Wilson early in November. The premier's letter, which outlines his reasons for the calling of such a meeting was officially published today. It was written Sept. 4, 1919, and follows:

"My dear friend: I hope soon to have the pleasure of seeing you in Paris before your return to America but our friend, Capt. Andre Tardieu says that this is not certain and therefore it seems well to communicate to you reflections suggested by decisions to be taken concerning the society of nations.

"In the first place it seems to me that the first meeting of the society in Washington under the presidency of Mr. Wilson should be urgently called at the earliest possible moment. Owing to the hopes this society has caused to be born and facilitate the solution of international problems facing all nations.

"Finally, don't you think I would be a great advantage for the ex-officio members of the society of nations to be enabled to exchange views on the general direction of the line to be pursued? No man is better qualified than President Wilson to remind the peoples at the opening of the first assembly.

"The society of nations will have prestige and influence if it succeeds in maintaining and developing the feeling of international solidarity from which it was born during the war at the call of Mr. Wilson. I myself shall be happy to second him in this task.

(Signed)
"Georges Clemenceau."

P. S.—I have written a similar letter to Premier Lloyd George.

WILSON'S GIFTS OF LITTLE VALUE

Mr. Tumulty said the president received no gifts which would have required an act of congress for him to accept and that in every case where it was made known that he was to receive a present, he consulted Secretary Lansing and the attorney general as to whether he could legally accept.

The most valuable present, Mr. Tumulty said, was a gold casket which contained a certificate of citizenship from the city of London. The king of Italy presented the president with two old gloves and the king of England gave him a book.

FRENCH DISCUSS LEFEVRE-RE'S MOTION TO TREATY

Paris, Oct. 3.—Deputy Andre Lefevre's motion asking the government to open negotiations to have a rider added to the Versailles treaty which would render the disarmament of Germany effective, was discussed in the chamber of deputies today.

RACE RIOTS IN ARKANSAS SUBDUED

San Francisco, Oct. 4.—United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson on his arrival here late tonight from Los Angeles denied reports that he had been advised by Republican leaders to abandon his speaking tour in opposition to the treaty of peace and the league of nations and return to Washington.

CONDITION OF WILSON SHOWS AN IMPROVEMENT

President Passes a More Encouraging Day.

PATIENT MUST BE KEPT QUIET

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Continued improvement was recorded in Rear-Admiral Grayson's night bulletin, which declared President Wilson had passed a more encouraging day, altho the improvement was not decisive.

Dr. Grayson indicated that he felt much encouraged by the day's progress. The day was oppressively hot and the fact that the president had more than held his own despite his respiratory affliction resulting from influenza was taken as a hopeful sign.

His physicians said he was retaining some of the ground lost on Thursday's unfavorable turn of the illness and indicated that his recuperative powers now had the upper hand. A good night's rest of the few Mr. Wilson has been able to enjoy since his illness began was credited with aiding materially in restoring strength and cheerfulness. During the day the president was able to get additional rest but he was kept in bed and was under almost continued observation by his physicians.

The specialists called in by Dr. Grayson again made a thorough examination and consulted for an hour over the patient's condition. They made no announcement but indicated general satisfaction with the progress being made. The examination included a test of the president's eyes and it was said they were found to be unaffected by his nervous ailment.

With all of Mr. Wilson's immediate family at the white house, scores of other persons, including many officials and diplomats, called at the executive offices to express their sympathy and their hope for a speedy recovery. Many measures of similar nature were received by wire, some of them coming from foreign countries.

Nine but members of the family were permitted to see the president by his room and it was said that for a few days at least the rule of absolute quiet would be enforced rigidly. Hope virtually was abandoned that he would be able to take any active part in the industrial and labor conference called by him to meet here during the coming week but some white house officials thought he might be permitted, should his condition continue to improve to devote a few minutes a day to important legislative matters likely to be ready for his signature soon.

Among the bills which may be sent to the white house by congress during the coming week are those providing for prohibition enforcement, restoration of the rate-making powers of the interstate commerce commission, revision of the food control act and continuation of work on the Alaskan railway. Altho the measures automatically would become laws ten days after final passage should the president fail to act it is possible he may be permitted by Dr. Grayson to affix his signature to them.

In addition to Dr. Grayson the physicians present at the consultation today were F. X. Doremus, Philadelphia expert on nervous diseases; Rear-Admiral E. R. Duff of the naval hospital; Dr. Rufus of Washington and Dr. George Schweinitz, an eye specialist of Philadelphia. It was said the eye examination was made because impairment was common after nervous troubles.

Again today the president's heart action was declared to be good and his mind keen, symptoms in which his physicians placed much reliance. His pulse was said to be normal and there was no fever.

Among messages received at the white house tonight was the following from Cardinal Gibbons at Baltimore:

"I beg to express my heartfelt sympathy for the president in his hour of illness and will pray for his early recovery."

It is the generally accepted belief that all the oratory in the senate over the peace treaty and covenant will not change a vote. If all the senators have fully determined on their course of action, why not dispose of the big subject now and take up other problems that are almost as important?

Records show that at the University of Illinois and other large educational institutions thousands of young men and women are studying Spanish. This must mean that they have their eyes on Mexico or the South American countries as offering possibilities of business or employment. Certain it is that the young man or woman with a decent knowledge of Spanish has excellent business opportunities just now. The only danger is in increasing the number of Spanish linguists to a point above the demand.

The bill providing that preference shall be given to ex-soldiers as employees in the census work has met with general support. It will likely become a law without opposition. This has given the government one opportunity to show its appreciation of men who have been in the service. There will be about 90,000 census employees, one-third of them in the offices and two-thirds in enumeration work, so that at least temporary government jobs will be available for a very considerable number of the men who were in the service.

Work on the new reservoir is nearing completion. A visitor there will get a very definite idea of how the money has been spent and how well the work has been done. Such a visit and inspection will also certainly impress the need there is for the construction of a filtration plant in order to make possible pure water supply, which has been for so long a time the one great desire of the people of Jacksonville.

PRESIDENTIAL BURDENS

Somehow the country doesn't feel greatly alarmed over President Wilson's illness. The people have the feeling that a few days of complete rest will restore the executive to at least nearly normal health and strength. Everybody sincerely hopes this will be true. Meanwhile the editorial writers in the metropolitan papers are suggesting that part of this temporary breakdown is due to the fact that the president has been so unwilling to share responsibilities. Certainly the strain would be less on the country's chief executive if there was less of the one-man government policy at Washington.

Consolidation of the light plant and the pumping station will mean a saving to the city of $4,000 to $5,000 a year in cost of hauling coal and in the profit paid to the dealers thru whom the coal is purchased. The savings that can thus be effected are so marked, the city needs the money so badly, that even the coal dealers of Jacksonville are said to favor the bond issue which will make possible this consolidation of plants and this big annual saving.

The men and women who do not really desire to pay their individual debts are few indeed. So it is quite certain that the men and women who do not want Jacksonville to meet her honest obligations are few. There are two ways thru which the debts of Jacksonville can be paid: one from funds raised by taxation; the other by funds raised thru bonds. If the debt were small the natural method would be thru taxes, but with a debt of $130,000 the only reasonable way is payment thru a bond issue—that is spreading the payment over a period of years so that the burden may be lighter.

NEVER AGAIN

When the dam and reservoir have been completed the people of Jacksonville will not need to witness the painful spectacle of a dry Morgan Lake. While it has not been an every year occurrence, all too frequently it has been necessary to pump all the water from Morgan lake into the mains of Jacksonville. This has meant more than a detriment to the park. It has meant water of a muddy, murky unhealthy kind that should never be forced thru the pipes of a city where the laws of sanitation are properly observed.

THE PARCEL POST MILLIONS

According to the assistant postmaster general the parcel post has meant a profit to the government of $10,000,000 in the past year. If these figures are correct either the rates charged for service are too high or else employees are not getting sufficient wages. In objecting to the Cummins railroad bill it was recently pointed out that there could not properly be profits in excess of a reasonable return on the investment, for the rates charged for carriage should not be greater than mean a just return on the investment. The same rule applies to post-office department earnings.

THE NATIONAL GAME

Anyone who doubts that baseball is the American national game needs only to watch the newspaper and telegraph offices thruout the country these days. During the war period there was evidently a good deal of the lessening of interest in baseball but nowadays the fans seem to be making up for all the lost time. In Chicago where some of the world series games are staged baseball is the common theme in stores and offices. While the games are being played it is almost impossible to transact business for everybody from the proprietor down to the office boy is listening for telephone news from the score board. And the young women in the stores and offices are just as enthusiastic, just as "dippy" as the men.

THE MILD MANNERED MR. FOSTER

William Foster, organizer of the steel strike, much to the surprise of the congressional investigating committee, proved to be a mild mannered witness. The members of the committee basing their opinion on reading Foster's incendiary and bloodthirsty paragraphs expected to see a man of the wild-eyed type. Foster for some time was very reluctant to testify and in explaining the writings which have given him the reputation of a "red" of the most radical kind, declared that the times had changed him greatly and that the writings and utterances attributed to him were the result of youthful inexperience. His appearance and his 1919 statements were very much in contrast with his early writings. But it will take something further than his own personal testimony to offset the popular belief that Foster still holds the view that the way to win is to win even if violence is required.

THE "Y" IN THE WAR

Good news is found in the detailed report of the war work of the Y. M. C. A. putting that organization in a more favorable light than might have been expected from the widespread criticism which prevailed a few months ago.

The "Y" actually spent in its war service, from the end of April, 1917, to the end of March, 1919, about $98,000,000, and had $27,000,000 left to carry on the work until next January.

Only two per cent of that $98,000,000 was spent for religious purposes. The rest went for personal services and entertainment, necessary expenses and the distribution of supplies.

The impression that soldiers had to pay for everything they got from the Y. M. C. A. is refuted by such facts as these:

There were 557,000 baseballs and 20,000 sets of boxing gloves distributed free overseas. There were 97,000,000 free concerts, vaudeville performances and other entertainments given in American cantonments, and more than 34,000 concerts and entertainments overseas, costing altogether over $2,000,000.

For motion picture films there was expended more than $1,000,000. There was a million spent for literature and education and two millions for athletics.

A chain of hotels for men on leave was maintained at a cost of half a million. There was about $11,000,000 spent for the erection and maintenance of "huts" for men in training camps on this side, and nearly as much for the same purpose abroad.

There were 400,000 sheets of letter paper and half as many envelopes and 16,000,000 postcards provided for soldiers in France.

About $16,000,000 went for similar benefits to the allied armies.

Many mistakes, no doubt, were made on the human side, owing to a lack of tact on the part of some of the men in charge of the "Y" stations. On the whole, however, this great institution seems to have performed a big creditable work, whose worth is only beginning to find proper appreciation.

THE YEAR BY YEAR PLAN

Two men were talking the other day on the relative merits of paying the city's debts by direct taxation all in one year or by bonds spread over a period of twenty years.

"It's this way," said one of the men. "Suppose here on the side-walk a lot of bricks are piled up. Attempt to move them to the other side of the street all at one time and the task is impossible. If you struggled with too great a load of them they would crush you. But if you pick up a few at a time and carry them across the street, twenty or more trips can be made without exhaustion. The task can be accomplished."

"It is just the same way with the city's debt. If you tried to pay it all in one year, the direct taxation burden would be heavier than most people could bear. Property would be crushed in value by the weight, but spread over a period of twenty years it is entirely different. The tax burden is not heavy enough to trouble the average tax payer and property values are not damaged."

DARK DAYS

There is trouble everywhere, as the day's dispatches show, discontent is in the air, every fellow has his woe. From our homes in Easy street we come changing forth, each day, asking, in the name of Pete, for all kinds of higher pay. In our gaudy cars we ride, up and down the crowded, roaring that we are denied luxuries enjoyed by Mike. In our silken shirts and socks we denounce the plutocrats, who have gathered in more rocks than we've hoarded in our flats. All this discontent in view is an after-war disease; it is like the Spanish flu, which but lately made us sneeze. And the flu, as you've been told, ran its course and fizzled out, giving place to ailments old, rheumatiz and mumps and gout. And the present ailment, raging like a house afire, soon will wilt and fade away. Soon we'll gather as of yore, chewing tobacco and sipping rather at the Blue Front store, talking of the need of rain; and we'll analyze the crops till the theme has made us hoarse, when this plague of crazy wars, like the flu, has run its course.

Fred Scholfield of Lynnville made the city a visit yesterday.

PREVENTION DRIVE
AGAINST ACCIDENTS

Huge Number of Railroad Employees Will Contest for Prize Oct. 18 to 31—Safety Officials Arranged Campaign.

Complete details for staging the national railroad accident prevention drive October 18th to 31st have been decided upon by the director general of railroads thru A. F. Duffy, manager of the safety section, according to announcement from Washington, D. C.

H. A. Adams, regional supervisor of safety for the central western region conferred with 67 safety officers representing the lines comprising the central western region at a meeting held in Denver on Sept. 1st and 2nd, completing all details for the staging of this big drive. This campaign is being handled along similar lines in the Northwest, Pocahontas, Eastern, Allegheny, Southern and Southwestern regions.

There will be 187 railroads, employing nearly two million men and operating approximately 231,000 miles of track, competing for first place in this drive. It develops that the roads in this region (the central western) have, in the aggregate, approximately 325,000 employees and 55,000 miles of track, and that each employee is going to be asked to do his utmost during a period of fourteen days to keep from being injured himself, or being the cause of injuring any others.

The eyes of the world will be upon the American railroads during this campaign, for already favorable attention and earnest inquiry has been received by the United States railroad administration from the British and Japanese governments regarding the success being accomplished by this intensified safety work.

Personal injury records of railroads under federal control for the first seven months of 1919 as compared with the corresponding period of 1918 shows approximately 1,300 fewer deaths and 23,600 fewer injuries on our railroads.

LITERBERRY

The Morgan-Scott Baptist association was a grand good meeting from first to last. Some of the sermons were strong and powerful, while others were tender and helpful, all seeming to say, "forward, let us go forward."

It was said by a delegate "we have had a spiritual uplift and a season of refreshing."

The woman's session was held amid difficulties, on the last hour, of the last afternoon, of the last day of this annual association.

The men were all thru, they were tired and ready to go home. The people not interested in missions were passing out of the room. The autos were humming and the confusion was such that Mrs. Burnett, the president, could not be heard very well. Mrs. David Tristram Magill of Alton, made a short talk on the foreign work, leaving out much that she had prepared, owing to the short time she was given.

Mrs. Burnett gave reports of all the Reading Circles, Waverly having the best report, they having thirty one readers, the number of books read, two hundred and twenty seven. Waverly carried off the pennant, a beautiful little affair, made of blue satin, with yellow trimmings, the gift of Mrs. Burnett. Good for Waverly. The next association will be at Manchester.

COUNTY MONUMENT ASSOCIATION MEETS

Session Called For Saturday Afternoon to Discuss Progress Being Made.

The Morgan County Monument Association met yesterday afternoon and in the absence of Chairman McDouall S. W. Nichols was elected to preside.

The chair stated that the meeting had been called to discuss the condition of the monument and the progress that was being made. T. B. Orear and the chair reported that they had called on Mr. Fernandes who has the contract for the foundation and asked him when he would begin work as the foundation should be constructed this fall if no other work is done.

Mr. Fernandes had replied that if the contractors had been let alone the monument would have been built two years ago. He said his men and material all ready to go to work when he was called.

It was explained that the county board had criticised the specifications of the proposed monument and they had been changed to agree with the ideas of the county board which had agreed to abide by the decision of the state architect to whom the revised plans had been submitted. That gentleman had examined the plans and had appeared before the board here and had advised them that what was known as design number one was by far the more suitable and every way desirable. It was hoped there would be no more delay as all objections had been met, but still the county board refused to go ahead with the chosen design, but went on record as favoring another.

Strong objections were made by the members of the Grand Army of the Republic and a majority of the monument association and the work was delayed until after winter set in. Again the matter was brought up before the board and finally they agreed to adopt number one design as desired by the veterans and association.

Mr. Fernandes had his material and men ready to go ahead with the foundation last year when he was again stopped, this time by the government agent who claimed it would be unlawful to use the material for that purpose at that time.

Now material has greatly advanced as well as the wages of men and unless the granite is to be forthcoming very soon there is no need of haste. He said he would not throw up the contract but must be permitted to do the work at a time when it will suit him best and interfere least with work in which there is some money for him as this will now be a loss.

The financial statement of the monument fund was called for.

County Treasury...$13,883.88

The original contract was for $31,000, so that there is due the contractors $12,000. They have done a great deal of work on the statutory groups. The association or the county is amply protected by a surety bond for the faithful completion of the work.

F. P. Wilbert, to whom $1,500 was paid as a traveling salesman for the Jacksonville Monument Company. The county board entered into contract with him as supervising architect and had already paid him $1,250 on a total contract for $2,000. The monument association strongly objected to his appointment as he is not a professional architect at all nor a resident of the city, so the county board compromised with him and he agreed to withdraw for $250 more.

Mr. J. K. C. Pierson, a competent architect, has been retained and it is estimated, as recollected, that his bill will be about $200 or not very much more with a small amount for supervising the work of the foundation.

INDEES WILL TRY IT AGAIN TODAY

Will Try to Start Series With Centennials—Two Postponements Because of Weather.

If it rains again today Manager Smith might as well give up playing a series with the Springfield Centennials unless he can sign an armistice with the weather man.

The opening game of the Indies-Centennial series has been postponed twice now because of rain. If it should rain again today fans will begin to believe that the Springfield team is a jinx.

If weather permits the opening game will be played this afternoon. Because of the great interest in the world's series Manager Smith announces that play will not be called until 3:30 in order that fans may stay down and hear the result of the game and then reach the park in time to see most of the game. Coach Harmon will umpire.

Christopher is in Chicago witnessing the world's series games and probably will not be home this afternoon. Robertson, who caught here for the Central Union Telephone company team will do the receiving for the Indies.

The teams will line up as follows:

DRIVER'S PLUCK SAVES FINE TEAM

John Craig Checks Runaway in Time to Save Lives of Valuable Horses.

By sheer nerve and strength to carry out his purpose John Craig, a driver for the LaCrosse Lumber Company was able yesterday morning to save a valuable team and wagon from destruction. Craig was loading tile at the Chicago and Alton tracks when the team became startled and started to run. Craig was in the freight car at the time but jumped out in time to grasp the reins. He was unable to check the animals and they pulled and dragged him for some distance. At one time he was thrown in under the front wheels of the wagon which broke in two. He succeeded in extricating himself however and by the time the team had nearly reached East College avenue had the horses in control. The animals were headed straight down the track before they were stopped, and most certainly would have been killed in the East College avenue subway had they not been checked in time.

A GOOD MAN GONE.
Benjamin F. Walker, formerly a resident of Arcadia and for fifteen years living in Marietta, died recently at a hospital in Macomb. Every person who knew "Uncle Benny" had a good word for him and for the best of reasons for he was a good man. The Macomb paper containing a notice of his death says he was about 76 years old, but to the writer it seems as if he must have been older. The notice says: "Benjamin F. Walker died last evening about 7:30 at the Phelps hospital, aged about 76 years. The funeral services will be held tomorrow at Marietta, his home; interment at Marietta. "Deceased had been ill for some time with cancer of the stomach and had been under treatment at the hospital for about five weeks. He had been a resident of Marietta for about fifteen years. He was a retired farmer and highly respected by all who knew him. He leaves a son, Wayne W. Walker of Jamestown, N. Y., by his first wife, whose maiden name was Rebecca Hoffman; a son, James A. Walker by his second wife, whose maiden name was Adelia Slayton; also a brother, T. J. Walker of Marley, Mo., and three step-children. Mrs. William Edgars, of near this city, Mrs. A. J. Tiffney of Jamestown, N. Y., and E. L. Servoss of Jacksonville."

LITERBERRY YOUTH THROWN FROM AUTO

Leon Dinwiddie Rendered Unconscious for More Than an Hour—Accident Occurs North of Virginia Friday Night.

Literberry, Oct. 4.—Leon Dinwiddie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Dinwiddie of this place, had a narrow escape from death at ten o'clock Friday night when he was thrown from the automobile in which he was riding. The accident happened on the Chandler-ville road north of Virginia. Young Dinwiddie, who is 17 years old, was riding in the back seat of the car owned and driven by Albert Pratt. The speed at which the car was traveling is not known but the auto struck an obstruction in the road with such force as to throw Dinwiddie out. He struck the ground on his back, the greater force of the impact coming near the neck. Dinwiddie was unconscious for more than an hour. He was taken to the office of Dr. Lyle of Virginia and given medical attention. He suffered no broken bones but sustained severe and painful bruises. Saturday evening he was reported as resting very well at his home here and will recover from the shock of the accident in a few days.

There was a large number from Literberry and vicinity shopping in Jacksonville Saturday.

Misses Lula Henderson and Mable Johnson were visitors at the home of Mrs. George Ratliff in Murrayville Saturday evening.

World's Series Notes

Walter Ruether, who pitched Cincinnati to a 9 to 1 victory in the first game of the series and "Lefty" Williams, the Sox southpaw, probably will be the opposing pitchers in the fifth game of the series today. This was indicated last night in statements by Managers Gleason and Moran.

Williams faced the Redlegs in the second game at Cincinnati, losing 4 to 2.

"With three victories to our credit, nothing will stop the Reds now from winning the world's championship," said Manager Moran tonight. "We have beaten Cicotte twice and will beat Williams tomorrow, if Gleason decides to pitch him."

"Our pitching staff is vastly superior to the Sox. We have proved it. I may start Ruether back at the Sox tomorrow but have two others to fall back on if Ruether isn't right."

"That certainly was a tough game for Cicotte to lose," said Manager Gleason. "He was so set up on winning that he was a bundle of nerves. If he had allowed Duncan's grounder to go to Weaver there might be a different tale to tell tonight. That put the Reds in a position to score as Cicotte later 'grooved' one to Kopf and he nailed it.

"However, we are not downhearted. Altho it will be an uphill fight, the Sox will come back. A lead of three games is considerable advantage but the series is not over. I may pitch Williams tomorrow."

Baseball enthusiasts to the number of nearly 400 were on the line at White Sox park for the opening sale of bleacher and pavilion tickets Sunday morning for the fifth game of the world's series, when, shortly after 7 o'clock last night a downpour of rain broke. The waters fled to shelter while the thundershower raged, but two hours later, when it had abated to a light but steady drizzle, a few of them resumed the places near the ticket windows.

The infield of the playing grounds was covered with large tarpaulin which prevented it being soaked and only further rains today will prevent playing being started.

Henry Fleming and Clifford James of the northwest part of the county came to the city yesterday.

See the Asbestos Sweat

"Oh, You Beauty!" That's what comes to your mind every time you go in the kitchen and see the Copper Clad Range. It is an inspiration because the finest known example of art is used in making this range. It is a picture because so pleasing. A statue, because so well proportioned. A symphony, because of the perfect performance.

This Set of Elegant Set of Aluminum Ware FREE!

FREE means that this does not cost COPPER CLAD buyers a single penny. It is a reward for buying while the crank is here and is offered by him to justify you in attending this sale.

This ware is very substantial and just the kind that you would select if buying for your own use.

FREE to every COPPER CLAD buyer during this sale. Come see the asbestos sweat.

See Why Copper-Clad Ranges Do Not Rust Out

A section of range body is heated and there on the iron body is the sweat from the asbestos right before your eyes. You see just what happens every time you build a fire in your range. You see why the sheet of copper is used and what it does, and how it does it; you take nobody's word; you see it with your own eyes.

Save a Thousand Shovels of Coal Every Year!

You know that a house with a single wall is not as warm as the house with two walls and an air space. You know that storm windows, two windows with a space between are much warmer than a single window even if it is as thick as the two windows. The COPPER CLAD has four walls and an air space. See what it means in fuel saving. See the water sizzle and boil away on the 3-ply sample while it stands on the copper clad sample. See what is saved by having the four wall thermos construction. Suppose you save one shovel of coal every meal, at the end of the year you have saved over one thousand shovels. Pay—of course it will pay, and you owe it to yourself to see these two great demonstrations and know for yourself what range lasts longest.

COPPER CLAD means the pure sheet copper is placed between the sweaty asbestos and range body.

Not for the purpose of unique publicity, because the older residents of Jacksonville and vicinity are well acquainted with the establishment of this firm, its responsibility and reputation, but for the benefit of the many newcomers—

We call the attention of the ladies to our thoroughly organized tailoring department, a department entirely separate from that devoted to men's work, and in charge of an experienced and highly specialized designer, cutter, fitter and maker of ladies' suits, dresses, waists and coats, assisted by a corps of capable workers.

The ladies' department of the Jacksonville Tailoring company has been in operation about five years and, we may be pardoned in saying, has given universal satisfaction.

We have just received a lot of new fabrics and mention particularly the new Chevola, Radium Cord, Heathertones, the Mikado and Habit Checks, and the popular Broadcloths and Serges. We will show you these in the whole piece so that you will gain a clearer idea of how a finished garment will appear—it is difficult to tell from small samples. In quality you will find these up to standard in every respect.

More than ever this year will it pay to have your suits, dresses and coats tailored to measure; and you will find upon examination that, quality for quality, tailored garments are not more expensive than the readymade. We are prepared to show you the prevailing styles, or to design and cut according to ideas that you may express.

A cordial invitation is extended to the ladies of Jacksonville and vicinity to call, let us show our new fabrics and discuss this question.

J. F. CLARK'S BUGGY DAMAGED BY AUTO

Driver Speeding in West College Street Strikes Buggy Breaking Left Rear Wheel and Bending Axle—Mr. and Mrs. Clark Narrowly Escape Injury.

A speeding automobile driver struck the buggy of J. F. Clark in West College street about 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening, breaking the left rear wheel and bending the rear axle. Mr. and Mrs. Clark were severely shaken up but fortunately were not thrown from the vehicle, thus escaping probably serious injury.

The automobile driver who only had one light burning never slackened speed and made his escape before his identity could be ascertained. Those who saw the accident were unable to get the number of the car.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark had stopped in front of the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Graff in West College street and were close to the curb heading east. The driver of the automobile was traveling east and apparently made no effort to avoid the buggy. He struck it with great force with the results as indicated. Mr. and Mrs. Clark were thrown forward by the force of the impact but were not thrown from the vehicle.

This is the second accident of this kind within a week, a horse driven vehicle being demolished in South Main street last Saturday night. The driver in that instance also went his way without stopping to see if anyone was killed or badly injured. If the thing keeps up some reckless antol will run afoul of the law and it will go hard with him when he stops.

YEGGS ATTEMPT TO ROB MURRAYVILLE BANK

Two Tries to Force Vault Door Unsuccessful—Robbers Frightened Away By Residents Returning from Dance.

Yeggmen made an unsuccessful attempt to rob the Murrayville Bank at Murrayville about 2:30 o'clock Saturday morning. They gained an entrance by prying open a window in the rear of the bank. Two charges of nitro-glycerine were exploded but failed to force the door.

The robbers used tools secured from a blacksmith shop and the section tool house of the Chicago & Alton railroad. The combination was tried off of the door and the explosive inserted in the opening.

The explosion damaged the vault to such an extent that it could not be opened by bank officials. The officials immediately telegraphed to Chicago and an expert arrived in Murrayville Saturday afternoon and opened the vault. All the contents were found intact and the only loss will be the damage to the vault.

Indications are that the yeggs went to Murrayville in an automobile which it is believed was left in a field northeast of the town. It is thought that they went south when they left Murrayville. It is suspected the robbers are the same ones who attempted to rob the bank at Kane, Ill., a few days ago.

J. A. Carlson, who resides near the bank, saw the robbers. He was aroused and went up to ascertain the time. He saw two men near the bank and apparently there were two inside.

About this time several automobiles containing young people who had been attending a dance at the home of Thomas O'Connell arrived in Murrayville and the robbers were frightened away.

Mr. Carlson in the meantime had notified Robert Walker, who also lives near the bank. The alarm soon spread and J. L. Wyatt, cashier of the bank, was the first one to enter the building. Examination showed that nothing of value had been secured and the greatest damage was to the vault door.

The sheriff's force and police department were notified of the attempted robbery and word also was sent to all cities and towns in Central Illinois. There has been no clue obtained as yet of the identity of the robbers.

This is the second attempt to rob the Murrayville bank. An attempt was made to rob the bank about four years ago, but it too was unsuccessful.

SANGAMON TEACHERS IN CLOSE ORGANIZATION

In Sangamon county the teachers' association is a very aggressive active organization. Some evidence of this fact is shown in the recent action declaring that no teacher without experience who accepts a salary of less than $70 a month, nor more experienced teacher who accepts a salary of less than $80 a month, shall hold membership in the association. The Sangamon County association of teachers has a membership of 700 and with such a large membership is indeed an influential body. This action on salaries is quite in line with that of trade unions with reference to wage scales.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES

A committee of the faculty consisting of Professor J. G. Ames, chairman; and Professors Haylen, Poage, Rammelkamp and Harmon, has been appointed to make a final compilation of the records of the Illinois College men in the service. In addition to securing a complete record of the men, the committee will endeavor to secure a photograph of every Illinois man who was in the army or navy or other branches of war work. It is the plan to have these photographs framed in one or two large frames and placed on the walls of one of the College buildings.

The devotional meeting at Academy Hall Sunday evening will be led by Miss Rosalie Campbell on the subject "Making Our Environment."

Fred Bray '20 and Edward Tanner '23 were recently elected cheer leaders for the coming year.

CINCINNATI TAKES FOURTH GAME OF SERIES FROM SOX

Red Hurler Let Chicago Down with Three Hits, Winning Battle 2 to 0—Series Now Stands 3 to 1 in Redlegs' Favor

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Cincinnati now needs but two games to bring the world's championship flag to the banks of the Ohio. Chief Moran's Redlegged National Leaguers today defeated the Chicago White Sox in the fourth game of the series, 2 to 0. The path ahead of the American Leaguers is strewn with rocks and sown with Canada thistles in the view of followers of the game for they must win four of the remaining games to win the bunting, and dare lose only two to end the series in favor of the Reds. In the opinion of unprejudiced persons it ought to be easy to drop a brace to a club going like the Reds have been. Today's defeat was a sore blow to the locals, for they had hoped that as the Reds had won two straight games on their home grounds the Sox would do likewise. The 3 to 0 win of the locals yesterday roused enthusiasm to a high pitch and the attendance today, 34,363, heaviest of the series, attested the aspirations of the Chicagoans.

Cicotte Loses Own Game. Eddie Cicotte, who was driven off the mound in the opening game at Cincinnati, where he suffered the most humiliating defeat of his career, elected to retrieve his renown today but while he held the Reds to five hits and issued no passes two of those hits came in one inning and he himself in that inning bunched two errors which proved costly.

The regular order of things brought Jim Ring to the pitcher's slab for the Reds, but the fact that he allowed only three hits which were as scattered as soda fountains in the Sahara, was somewhat marred by the fact that he passed three Sox to first on wide ones and hit two others.

The sliding back of him was exceptional. Every Red was on tip-toe, vigorous, confident and aggressive. They brought down long hard flies in a way to discourage all opposition and fielded the ball with the greatest dash and brilliancy. This was particularly noticeable in the second and third innings, when it was a question whether the big right hander would collide with the aviator who was performing above or join the list of baseball idols which Garry Hermann is offering his loyal following in Cincinnati. In the opinion of those who claim to be able to read the psychic reflexes of diamond athletes that aviator will lead a lonesome life if he waits for J. Ring.

Cool Wave Hits Park. The day had been hot up to the moment that the announcer, having parked himself on base announced with marked formality that Mister Nalin, Mister Quigley, Mister Evans and Mister Rieger would do the umpiring and a vendor was shouting facetiously that "you couldn't tell the umpires without a program" but at that moment as if someone had opened an ice box, there was a cold blast which remained thru out the rest of the day and spectators quickly hustled back into their coats and rechecked their collars. The bleachers tore paper and tossed it into the breeze until it looked like a snow storm. Cicotte was cheered as he walked to the mound, more in hope than in expectation and there was a noticeable silence as Rath, the first man up, singled to short left.

Daubert, however hit into a double play and Rieber went out and played left field long enough to gather in Groh's exaggerated pop.

It was one, two, three in the Sox half also, with Ring showing a speed which kept the locals popping them up so fast that it looked dangerous for the aviator who rarely went far from the field. Liebold, first up for the Sox, sent up a high one which drifted in the breeze so that Daubert was kept hopping backwards for some time before he seized it. Collins popped to Rath, while Duncan went back and gathered in Weaver's long fly in brilliant fashion.

In the second Cicotte's twist-ers couldn't be kept on the ground. Roush, Duncan and Kopf flying out in order. In each half the Sox appeared more threatening than at any other period. Joe Jackson, who regards hairpins as the ultimate in bringing good luck, carried four new ones as he came to bat and the hairpins delivered a clean double to center. Felsch sent him to third by the sacrificial route and the stands went wild with delight. Gandil, however, reared on a fly to Groh. Then Ring did one of two things—he either became wild or played a bit of the most daring strategy for he walked both Rieber and Schalk, filling the bases. This brought Cicotte to the plate. The crowd generally commented that it was his opportunity to win his own game, but his desperate swing caught the ball far up on the handle and he was out at first. Thus dissolved one of the locals' two chances to score.

The next opportunity came in the succeeding inning. Liebold lined to right along the foul line, but Neale, by a fine run got it with a catch, which was sheer banditry. Collins was hit by the pitcher and tore down to second. Weaver grounded out to Daubert unassisted. Jackson hit to Rath but his hairpins were still working and he camped on first while Rath was juggling the ball and making a hurried throw. Collins meanwhile reaching third. Felsch however was unable to produce a hit and another local hope was interred.

Sox Held Safe. The Sox never threatened again, save remotely in the fifth, when Groh's error, a wild heave to first placed Liebold on second with one out. Groh made a wonderful stop of Collins' hard hit ball and Liebold was run down between second and third. Weaver's out ended the rally. Thereafter Ring held the game in the palm of his hand with his fingers crossed. He allowed one more hit in the fifth, a base on balls in the seventh, another hit in the eighth and his last pass in the ninth, but these outcroppings lacked that relationship with the kind necessary to produce runs and never gave the Reds a moment's real worry.

The story of the Red victory belongs to the fifth inning alone. In no other did they get a runner past the initial sack. Sharp fielding, Cicotte's sterling pitching and two sharp, double plays tell the story of the inning other than the fifth.

Roush started by dumping the ball in front of the plate and was out at first on a hairline decision. Duncan bounded an awkward one toward Weaver and Cicotte grabbed it but in his haste threw a fathom or so over Gandil's head that started the debacle. Schalk, who gets into nearly every play, retrieved the ball, but Duncan was safe on second. The time-liness of the Reds' hitting, in evidence in all of the games which they have won, was again in evidence. Kopf singled to short left, Jackson taking the ball on the bound as he ran forward. Duncan was tearing for the plate and it looked like a certain out when Cicotte, whose nerves by reason of his previous error seemed out for an altitude record interposed his mitt, evidently to make a play for Kopf and deflected the ball. Duncan counted and Kopf established himself on third. Neale then doubled just out of reach of Jackson, scoring Kopf. Wingo and Ring grounded out ending the inning and the scoring.

The fifth game of the series will be played here tomorrow and the sixth in Cincinnati on Monday unless the weather interferes.

Batting Averages

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Cincinnati tied Chicago today in the total number of hits for the series despite the fact that a pitchers' duel was staged between Eddie Cicotte and James Ring. The National League club touched the Chicago "ace" for five hits, while the American leaguers made only

World's Series Pitching Record

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Even the Eddie Cicotte was the losing pitcher in today's world's series contest the analysis of balls and strikes showed him far steadier than Jim Ring, his successful Cincinnati opponent. Cicotte put over 33 strikes, one more than Ring and 26 of his offerings were hit to fair territory whereas 29 of Ring's were shot there by the home batsmen. In called balls, moreover, Cicotte was a way ahead. Umpire Nalin thought Eddie missed the plate 27 times, but he picked 44 of Ring's as bad ones. Four of these were given purposely to Schalk in the second inning. In addition Ring gave two other passes while Cicotte issued none. Each pitcher was credited with two strike outs. Two hit batsmen went on the wrong side of Ring's ledger. That Ring was depending upon his fast ball to null him out of ticklish situations was evident from the number of pop-ups which the Chicago players hit. Sixteen times they hit the ball in the air to fair territory and four times to foul.

From County Agents Office

Two Different Ideas of a Farm Bureau

One idea is, that a farm bureau is a local organization of farmers, working in co-operation with the College of Agriculture, to extend the latest discoveries in the fields of farming. Where this view is held the work is, to a very large extent, supported by public money. The second view is, that a farm bureau is a business organization of farmers having for its primary purpose the working out of more efficient means of carrying on the business of farming. Where this view prevails the organization is financed, to a considerable extent, by those who are members of the organization. The most progressive farmers in Illinois and the most successful county agents look forward to the time when farmers organizations will be financed entirely independent of public funds.

shipped three carloads of cattle to St. Louis. There was a wreck on the road and the cattle had to be unloaded. Some where in the mix-up one was lost. The others arrived at the market state and were sold at a price that disappointed the shipper. The Commission firm filed a modest bill for the lost steer and for the damage due to delay. The claim agent of this railroad made an offer way under the amount requested by the Commission Company. The facts in the case were presented to D. O. Thompson of the Illinois Agricultural Association. He has referred the matter to the legislative department. If the farmers of our state will organize as other business organizations they will be able to get claims attended to without delay.

Breeders Association
The annual election will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday, October 4th at the Farm Bureau headquarters at the Court House. We are hoping to see this association develop to a point so that it will interest every farmer in Morgan County.
Ultimately we ought to have separate breeders associations to further the interests of particular breeds. Very frankly, as a county, we are far in the rear in the matter of pure-bred livestock and breeders association.

Commercial Feeds
There are a great many good commercial feeds on the market.
The most reliable of these are registered with the state department of Agriculture and are guaranteed as to ingredients and chemical composition. Frequently in selling these feeds, claims are made for them that are not really justified. Some of these will give good results but the point we wish to emphasize is, that the man who grows his own feed is the one who will make the greatest profit from his feeding operation. It is possible to grow all of the feed needed for a balanced ration. Why invest in expensive commercial feeds when it is possible to grow them on the farm?

ENGINEER TELLS ABOUT TROUBLE

He Was So Run Down He Was on Verge of Giving Up.

The deep drawn lines in my face told the story of my eight years' suffering far better than words, but since I found relief by using Tanlac, I have a different story to tell," said H. D. Thorne, a known railroad engineer living at 159 E. Brooks St., Galesburg, Ill.

"It takes a good strong constitution to hold up under the strain of twenty years at the throttle of a railroad engine," he continued. "In spite of all the exposure to weather and irregular hours, I didn't seem to mind it up until eight years ago, when my stomach went back on me. I got so I couldn't eat without suffering afterward. Of course I gradually grew weaker and weaker as this went on, and finally my nerves began to give way and my life was no longer steady on the wheels. Sharp curves and rough tracks would make me almost dizzy with nervousness until I was safely past them. That is no way for an engineer to be in, and for my job is certainly one that requires a steady nerve and clear brain and a good eye. I took all sorts of medicines and treatments but couldn't find relief and had just about decided to jump down from the cab for good when I never took out another train. About this time I heard about Tanlac and though I didn't have much faith in any medicine, I thought I would give it a trial and took ten bottles of Tanlac. It put me in the shape I am in now, but there are mighty few men on the road that are in any shape. My appetite came back and I began to get real energy for wholesome food. I eat three square meals every day and sometimes want more. I went into my cab a whistler and opened up the throttle as I will go and feel all my confidence and energy that I will pull her over as safely and well as any man. My nerves are as steady as I can sleep like a log and the strain of long uncertain weather does me a bit. I just simply feel like a new man since Tanlac has recommended it."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Mr. R. B. Field; in Meredon by Mr. R. B. Field; in Murby M. E. Gilbert; in Wat the Wyle Drug Co.; in Rock by The Hov Pharm; in Chapin by Jno. Onken. —Adv.

The League of Nations

Mr. Editor:—

I see in the Jacksonville Journal that there will be a debate by the lawyers on the above subject, and I am asking you to print what an eminent lawyer said upon that subject 141 years ago. When opening the debate in the New York State Convention, that adopted the Constitution by only 30 for and 27 against. Convention in Massachusetts did no better—187 for and 168 against; Virginia Convention voted 89 for and 79 against. It took able lawyers at that time to overcome the opposition to the making of 12 independent States into a great nation; that it so prized since that under the leadership of Abraham Lincoln a four year war was waged rather than to have it dissolved, as it had been not only the people here but to the people of the world a blessing and an inspiration and in a spirit of thankfulness we ought to give our help to the new formed republic of Europe.

A PLATT.
The Constitution being again read, the Hon Robert R. Livingston rose, and addressed the chair as follows:—

Mr. Chairman, as the preamble of the plan under consideration comprises the great objects of the Union, it will be proper, at this place, to introduce such general observations as may with less propriety be noticed, when particular articles are under consideration, and which may serve, at the same time, to show the necessity of adopting some more efficient plan of union, than that by which we are now bound.

In the course of the observations I shall make with this view, many things will be urged that will be of little use, to those gentlemen who have heard all that has been said, who have read all that has been written on this subject, and who have formed their judgment after mature consideration. With such, all debate is unnecessary. But I trust, sir, there are many gentlemen present, who have yet formed no decided opinion on the important question before us, and who (like myself) being with them dispositions to examine whatever shall be offered, and not to determine till after the maturest deliberation. To such I address myself.

Even since a pure and perfect religion has lent her mild lights to philosophy, and extended her influence over the sentiments of men, it has been a received opinion that the happiness of nations, as well as of individuals, depends on peace, and that intimate connection with mutual wants occasion. To establish this on the basis of a general union of nations, has, at various times, employed the thoughts and attention of wise and virtuous men. It is said to have been the last great plan of the illustrious Henry IV. of France, who was justly esteemed one of the wisest and best of princes. But, alas, sir, in the old world, every attempt of this nature will prove abortive. There, governments are the children of force or fraud, and carry with them strong features of their parent's character. Dispute will not be referred to a common umpire, unless that umpire has power to enforce his decrees; and how can it be expected that princes, jealous of power, will consent to sacrifice any portion of it to the happiness of their people, who are of little account in their estimation? Differences among them, therefore, will continue to be decided by the sword, and the blood of thousands, will be shed before the most trifling controversy can be determined. Even Peace can hardly be said to bestow her usual blessings on them; their mutual jealousies convert peace into an armed truce. The husbandman feels the oppression of standing armies, by whom the fruits of his labor are devoured; and the flower of youth is sacrificed to the rigors of military discipline. It has pleased Heaven to afford the United States means for the attainment of this great object, which it has withheld from other nations. They speak the same language; they profess the same religion; and, what is of definitely more importance, they acknowledge the same great principle of government—a principal, if not unknown, at least little understood in the old world—that all power is derived from the people. They consider the state and the general governments as different deposits of that power. In this view, it is of little moment to them whether that portion of it which they must, in their own happiness, lodge in their rulers, be invested in the State Government only, or share between them and the councils of the Union. The rights they reserve are not diminished, and probably their liberty acquires an additional security from the division.

Let us not, then, sir, neglect to improve the advantages we possess; let us avail ourselves of the present moment to fix lasting peace upon the broad basis of national union; let us, while it is still in our power, lay the foundation of our own happiness, and that of our posterity. Jealousies may spring up; the seeds of them are already sown; the present moment may be the only one afforded for eradicating them.

I am too well satisfied, sir, of the virtue and patriotism of those to whom I address myself, to suppose that their determination will be influenced by an unworthy motive. But, sir, I dread the effect which a hasty or partial review may have on their minds; and, above all things, I dread lest the chimerical ideas of perfection in government, which gentlemen may have formed, should induce them to reject this, as falling short of their standard. Perfection, sir, is not the lot of humanity; and perhaps, were the gentlemen on this floor to compare their sentiments on this subject, no two of them would be found to agree. Nay, such is the weakness of our judgment, that it is more than probable that, if a perfect plan was offered to our choice, we should conceive it defective, and condemn it. The only people whose government was visibly directed by God himself, rejected his administration, and induced him, in his wrath, to give them a king. Let us be cautious, sir, lest, by our negligence or eager pursuit after chimerical perfection, we should forfeit the blessings we enjoy, and lose this precise opportunity of completing what other nations have been unable to effect.

WHEN THE ILLINOIS BOYS ARE PAINTING THE TOWN
The rattle and jar make you think of the war, And the boxes and cans, the brooms and the pans, And the song and the jest and all of the rest— Not a soul can sleep. No use lying down, When the Illinois boys are painting the town.

When the game has been won then the fun is begun, And no mortal can trace, nor get things back in place That once have been found While the Illinois boys are scouring around. But take it from me the job is done brown When the Illinois boys are painting the town. Then here's the glad hand and a welcome to you For our town has been sleeping the long summer thru. Nor can we express, nor tell with the tongue The bound of the heart, but it makes us feel young. And we hail it with joy, the clatter and din. And the matrons and deans must bid you "come in." And draw all the bolts with never a frown. When the Illinois boys are painting the town. S. Adrian Hughes.

I see in the Jacksonville Journal that there will be a debate by the lawyers on the above subject, and I am asking you to print what an eminent lawyer said upon that subject 141 years ago. When opening the debate in the New York State Convention, that adopted the Constitution by only 30 for and 27 against. Convention in Massachusetts did no better—187 for and 168 against; Virginia Convention voted 89 for and 79 against. It took able lawyers at that time to overcome the opposition to the making of 12 independent States into a great nation; that it so prized since that under the leadership of Abraham Lincoln a four year war was waged rather than to have it dissolved, as it had been not only the people here but to the people of the world a blessing and an inspiration and in a spirit of thankfulness we ought to give our help to the new formed republic of Europe.

A PLATT.
The Constitution being again read, the Hon Robert R. Livingston rose, and addressed the chair as follows:—

Mr. Chairman, as the preamble of the plan under consideration comprises the great objects of the Union, it will be proper, at this place, to introduce such general observations as may with less propriety be noticed, when particular articles are under consideration, and which may serve, at the same time, to show the necessity of adopting some more efficient plan of union, than that by which we are now bound.

In the course of the observations I shall make with this view, many things will be urged that will be of little use, to those gentlemen who have heard all that has been said, who have read all that has been written on this subject, and who have formed their judgment after mature consideration. With such, all debate is unnecessary. But I trust, sir, there are many gentlemen present, who have yet formed no decided opinion on the important question before us, and who (like myself) being with them dispositions to examine whatever shall be offered, and not to determine till after the maturest deliberation. To such I address myself.

Even since a pure and perfect religion has lent her mild lights to philosophy, and extended her influence over the sentiments of men, it has been a received opinion that the happiness of nations, as well as of individuals, depends on peace, and that intimate connection with mutual wants occasion. To establish this on the basis of a general union of nations, has, at various times, employed the thoughts and attention of wise and virtuous men. It is said to have been the last great plan of the illustrious Henry IV. of France, who was justly esteemed one of the wisest and best of princes. But, alas, sir, in the old world, every attempt of this nature will prove abortive. There, governments are the children of force or fraud, and carry with them strong features of their parent's character. Dispute will not be referred to a common umpire, unless that umpire has power to enforce his decrees; and how can it be expected that princes, jealous of power, will consent to sacrifice any portion of it to the happiness of their people, who are of little account in their estimation? Differences among them, therefore, will continue to be decided by the sword, and the blood of thousands, will be shed before the most trifling controversy can be determined. Even Peace can hardly be said to bestow her usual blessings on them; their mutual jealousies convert peace into an armed truce. The husbandman feels the oppression of standing armies, by whom the fruits of his labor are devoured; and the flower of youth is sacrificed to the rigors of military discipline. It has pleased Heaven to afford the United States means for the attainment of this great object, which it has withheld from other nations. They speak the same language; they profess the same religion; and, what is of definitely more importance, they acknowledge the same great principle of government—a principal, if not unknown, at least little understood in the old world—that all power is derived from the people. They consider the state and the general governments as different deposits of that power. In this view, it is of little moment to them whether that portion of it which they must, in their own happiness, lodge in their rulers, be invested in the State Government only, or share between them and the councils of the Union. The rights they reserve are not diminished, and probably their liberty acquires an additional security from the division.

Let us not, then, sir, neglect to improve the advantages we possess; let us avail ourselves of the present moment to fix lasting peace upon the broad basis of national union; let us, while it is still in our power, lay the foundation of our own happiness, and that of our posterity. Jealousies may spring up; the seeds of them are already sown; the present moment may be the only one afforded for eradicating them.

I am too well satisfied, sir, of the virtue and patriotism of those to whom I address myself, to suppose that their determination will be influenced by an unworthy motive. But, sir, I dread the effect which a hasty or partial review may have on their minds; and, above all things, I dread lest the chimerical ideas of perfection in government, which gentlemen may have formed, should induce them to reject this, as falling short of their standard. Perfection, sir, is not the lot of humanity; and perhaps, were the gentlemen on this floor to compare their sentiments on this subject, no two of them would be found to agree. Nay, such is the weakness of our judgment, that it is more than probable that, if a perfect plan was offered to our choice, we should conceive it defective, and condemn it. The only people whose government was visibly directed by God himself, rejected his administration, and induced him, in his wrath, to give them a king. Let us be cautious, sir, lest, by our negligence or eager pursuit after chimerical perfection, we should forfeit the blessings we enjoy, and lose this precise opportunity of completing what other nations have been unable to effect.

WHEN THE ILLINOIS BOYS ARE PAINTING THE TOWN
The rattle and jar make you think of the war, And the boxes and cans, the brooms and the pans, And the song and the jest and all of the rest— Not a soul can sleep. No use lying down, When the Illinois boys are painting the town.

When the game has been won then the fun is begun, And no mortal can trace, nor get things back in place That once have been found While the Illinois boys are scouring around. But take it from me the job is done brown When the Illinois boys are painting the town. Then here's the glad hand and a welcome to you For our town has been sleeping the long summer thru. Nor can we express, nor tell with the tongue The bound of the heart, but it makes us feel young. And we hail it with joy, the clatter and din. And the matrons and deans must bid you "come in." And draw all the bolts with never a frown. When the Illinois boys are painting the town. S. Adrian Hughes.

Skilled Mechanics Need Precise Vision

The Structural Iron Worker for example, would be taking his life in his hands to attempt the feats he is called upon to perform every day were his vision at fault. No matter how good, in time the eyesight begins to fail — and when that day comes, the mechanic's usefulness begins to narrow down — unless he seeks the aid of science. Cheaply selected, ill-fitting glasses, are highly detrimental to the eyes — and to mechanics in hazardous vocations they are dangerous. Do not trifle with your eyesight. When you need eye-help, see the best — go to a reliable optometrist.

Jacksonville's Financial Primer

What Is a Bond?

Answer: A bond is a contract, or note stating that a given sum of money will be paid at a stipulated time, together with a certain amount of interest.

What Is a Bond Issue?

Answer: A number of bonds given by a person or a corporation or municipality promising to pay at a given time, generally serially; that is, a certain amount every year for a period of years.

When Is the Interest Payable?

Answer: Generally either every six months or every year.

How Would Bonds of the City of Jacksonville Be Secured?
 Answer: Under the statute of Illinois, the city officials are compelled to levy a tax to meet each series of bonds as they come due and to pay the semi-annual or annual interest.

Has Jacksonville Ever Issued Bonds Before?

Answer: Yes.

What Has Happened to These Bond Issues?

Answer: They have all been paid with the exception of $34,000.00, which is due in installments of $4,000 every July 1st, and this issue will be paid off in eight and one-half years. Jacksonville also has lately issued water extension bonds for $75,000 and one series amounting to $3,750 has already been paid on July 1st, 1919.

N. B. of the $75,000 water extension bond issue, perhaps $19,000 will not be needed to complete the dam. If bond issue is carried, this surplus will be used toward the filtration plant. If the bond issue is defeated, the money will be used either for some additional work that may arise in connection with the water plant, or the money can be used to purchase that much of our own water bonds, thereby retiring before maturity a like amount and of course stopping the interest on that much.

What Is the Total Bonded Indebtedness of Jacksonville at Present?

Answer: $105,250.

What Is Jacksonville's Actual Valuation?

Answer: $13,200,000.

What Is Jacksonville's Assessed Valuation?

Answer: Under the new law it is $6,600,000.

What Is Jacksonville's Ability to Issue Bonds?

Answer: The legislature of 1919, passed an act changing the basis for establishing the equalized value of property from one-third to a basis of one-half and on this basis, bonds can be issued to the extent of five per cent of the equalized valuation.

How Many More Bonds Can Jacksonville Issue?

Answer: Jacksonville can issue a total of $320,000 of bonds, less the bonds outstanding at the time of issue which at present is $105,250, deducting this amount from the maximum ability of $320,000, leaves a total of $224,750.

What Is the Present Debt of Jacksonville?

Answer: On May 1st, 1919, the debt of Jacksonville, exclusive of the outstanding bonds, was $131,142.77.

N. B. By economy, this floating indebtedness was reduced to $129,050.92 by September 1st, showing that this administration has gained slightly but without doing any constructive or permanent improvement work.

For What Was This Debt Accumulated?

Answer: Salaries, fuel, supplies for the water and light department, police, fire department, streets, crossings, bridges and the thousand and one other things necessary to run a city.

To Whom Is This Money Owed?

Answer: To Ayers National bank for approved bills of 1915, 1916 and 1917 to which 20% was not added... $30,496.81
 To employees who hold approved bills... 12,246.60
 To merchants who hold approved bills... 54,690.08
 For interest due to bank and others... 4,500.00

Why Has Jacksonville Run Behind?

Answer: Primarily because expenditures of the city, as well as the individual have been increasing for years and primarily because during the war period, everything that the city has had to buy has doubled and trebled in value, the same as an individual and because the revenue of the city has not increased.

The sub-committee, composed of members of the citizen's committee, made a compilation of the total cost for the expense of running the city, and their statement shows that for a period of eight or ten years past, the average annual deficit amounts to $13,000 per year. In other words, the expenses of the city is that amount greater than its income and we face today that accumulation of indebtedness and in addition to this, consideration must be given the increased cost of labor and supplies which it is hoped the increased revenues will take care of without creating a deficit.

What Will Happen if the People Should Refuse to Vote a Bond Issue?

Answer: We will have to do the best we can. All departments, while running now on an economical basis, will have to be reduced more. The city will undoubtedly have many suits against it for the past due bills and there can be no possible defense against creditors securing judgment and probably officials will be mandamus, compelling them to levy a tax to meet judgments.

How Will the Disbursement of This Money Take Place After the Bonds Have Been Sold?

Answer: The city council pledges itself that if the bond issue carries, when the bonds are sold, the council will arrange to withdraw the money from the purchasers of the bonds on the same arrangement as the water extension bonds of $75,000 were handled, namely, there will be no excess of money lying idle in the bank, on which the city will be paying interest, but the council pledges itself to arrange first for the payment of the floating indebtedness amounting to approximately $131,000 which will be paid promptly by drawing from the bond company, enough to do this.

The council pledges itself that it will arrange to draw the money for the purpose of building the filtration plant only as the money is needed.

Then when it is decided on when is the proper time to begin work on the proposed electric light plant, the money will be drawn from the bond company only as needed. By this arrangement no money for any of the three proposed purposes will lie idle in the bank and the city will not be paying interest until the money is actually needed.

What Is the Citizen's Committee Who Compose It and What Are Its Duties?

Answer: The council asked for the co-operation and assistance of a citizen's committee. The citizens, at a mass meeting selected a citizen's committee as follows:

Chairman — Dr. E. F. Baker.
 Representing wards:
 First ward — Mrs. W. P. Duncan, A. W. Becker.
 Second ward — Mrs. Joseph Gomez, Bernard Gause.
 Third ward — Mrs. Anna Baldwin, Edward Lonergan.
 Fourth ward — Mrs. Clarence York, John J. Reeve.
 Representatives of Labor Temple — W. J. Hardy, I. W. Eaton.

Representative of Chamber of Commerce — Fred Borge.
 The council expects this committee to investigate every transaction, to be present at the paying of all bills composing the floating indebtedness, to sit with the council when plans are entered into for the building and completion of the filtration plant and the removal of the light plant. In other words, the council expects the citizen's committee to follow its actions at all times and any citizen of Jacksonville is invited to participate and to scrutinize.

At What Price Can These Bonds Be Sold?

Answer: Under the statute of Illinois, no municipality can sell bonds for less than par and accrued interest.

Can the Women Vote?

Answer: Yes.

WHEN IS ELECTION DAY?

Answer: October 7th, between the hours of seven a. m. and five p. m.
 The traditions of Jacksonville have always been opposed to repudiation. The floating indebtedness of the city is a moral obligation upon every citizen of the community and there could be no greater calamity than for us to say by our ballot that we are unwilling to pay our debts unless forced to do so by "court procedure."

Do Not Forget to Vote at the City Bond Election, Tuesday, Oct. 7, 1919

-one spoonful

equal to two spoonfuls of most other baking powders

Calumet Baking Powder has double the ordinary leavening strength. You use only one spoonful whereas you use two spoonfuls of most other brands. It is by far the most economical baking powder.

You pay about half the amount asked for high-priced brands. It goes twice as far as most other brands—so you save when you buy it—you save when you use it. But the most important economy of is in its superior quality. Regardless of price, Calumet is the highest grade baking powder made. It is absolutely pure in the can—in the baking. Leaves no harmful residue.

Calumet, wherever placed, always gives satisfaction. It is the largest selling brand of baking powder in the world and is made in the largest, cleanest, most up-to-date Baking Powder factory in existence.

The millions of housewives who use Calumet secure better bakings at a more economical cost than those who do not use it.

With all this evidence of superiority—with all this proof of better baking why should you be satisfied to stand the exorbitant expense of over priced powders or the faults and failings of cheap, inferior brands. You shouldn't—and you won't—after one Calumet bake-day trial.

Beware of This—

When you buy a pound can of Calumet, you get a full pound—16 ounces, no short weights. Some baking powders are now being put on the market in 12-ounce cans instead of pound cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it. Remember Calumet is not made by the Trust—not sold at Trust prices.

Valuable 72-Page Cook Book— Handsomely Illustrated in Colors

Every housewife should have it. The most comprehensive Cook Book ever issued. Hundreds of selected recipes formulated by eminent Chefs and Domestic Scientists. 276 Home Helps that show how to save work, time, money—how to have better things to eat at less cost. Send slip found in a can of Calumet and three 2-cent stamps to help cover expense of packing and mailing. No matter how many Cook Books you have, you need this valuable volume of household aids.
